FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Craftboston Donates Weekend Show Passes to Massachusetts Libraries

The Society of Arts and Crafts presents Craftboston 2011 at the Seaport World Trade Center March 25-27. Craftboston, an annual show of art, craft and design is presented by The Society of Arts and Crafts and features 200 of the most outstanding artists of our time, showcasing one-of-a-kind and limited-edition pieces in baskets, ceramics, decorative fiber, wearables, furniture, glass, jewelry, leather, metal, mixed media, paper and wood.

For the fourth year in a row, Craftboston is offering weekend passes to public libraries throughout Massachusetts to provide for their members free of charge. Libraries are an essential part of our history and culture, educating and informing the public in many areas including craft. Craftboston would like to encourage the continuation of knowledge, interest and interaction with fine craft by inviting library members to our weekend-long exhibition. In addition to shopping and exploring the booths of world-class exhibitors, visitors can expect an in depth and rewarding educational experience at Craftboston. The show features emerging artists from leading schools and universities, non-profit craft organizations, artist mentor program booths and a craft book vendor. Visitors may also attend the educational lecture series conducted by artists, curators, show jurors and other experts in contemporary craft.

Call your local library today to see if they are participating in this special educational outreach!
